Football Hall of Fame

Dr. Art Rettig believes his induction into the Indiana Football Coaches Association Hall of Fame tonight is more of an award for his profession than it is for him personally.

Rettig, an orthopedic surgeon for Methodist Sports Medicine/The Orthopedic Specialists, has worked for the Indianapolis Colts since the team moved to the city in 1984, the past 12 years as the team's head physician. He has also worked with IUPUI and Cathedral and North Central high schools.

Other inductees include: Bart Burrell (Carmel, Purdue); Mark Herrmann (Carmel, Purdue); Ken Leffler (deceased Seccina coach); George McGinnis (Washington); Dwight Wallace (Ball State); and Blake Ress (IHSAA commissioner).

The ceremony begins at 6 p.m. today at Primo's South. Call Paul Loggan (317) 259-5359 for more information.
